

HyPower

New opportunities and developments have occurred at HyPower, the power pedestal division of HydroHoist Marine Group.

Eric Farley, HyPower manager, and Mike Everett, manufacturing manager, are working with the Engineering Department to introduce the latest development in HyPower – offering LED bulbs in power pedestal products. The official release will be in the upcoming months. Until then, the new bulbs are being offered to customers as an upgrade to their order for a minimal charge. The first LED order is set to ship to a marina in Washington State.

The HyPower sales staff is working in conjunction with the Marketing Department to develop new collateral to get our name, products and services into the marketplace. The new resources will focus on HyPower's ability to supply Electrical Design Services and Distribution Equipment (transformers, distribution panels, sub-stations and more) including wire and cable.

This TotalPower approach makes HyPower a one-stop resource for any marina, dock builder or RV park.
